ASK THE 'W' QUESTIONS TO GET THE DETAILS:
Who? • What? • Where? • Why? • When? • Which? • How?

Who?
- Who else was there?
- Who else saw it happen?
- Who says something in this scene?
- Who has the problem?
- Who else knows?
- Who needs to know?

What?
- What happened?
- What happened next?
- What did _____ say?
- What was the problem?
- What was the best part?
- What was the worst part?
- What did _____ look like?
- What could the animals see?
- What could they hear?
- What could they smell?
- What color?
- What could they touch? How did it feel?
- What happened in the beginning?
- What happened in the middle?
- What happened at the end?

Where?
- Where does the story take place?
- Where were they when the trouble started?
- Where does (did) _____ live?

Why?
- Why did that happen?
- Why did they do that?
- Why did _____ do _____?
- Why did _____ say that?
- Why were they feeling that way?
- Why was it a problem?

When?
- When did that happen?
- When did they start to feel differently about that?

Which?
- Which part was the scariest?
- Which part was the best?
- Which person/animal helped the most?
- Which details are the most important to know?

How?
- How did that happen?
- How can you make that sound more interesting?
- How did the problem get solved?
- How were they feeling?
- How was _____ feeling when _____ happened?
- How many times did it happen?
- How did it end?
- How can you make your ending stronger?
- How can you say that so I'll understand it better?